

The doctor liked to help others. He greeted Gina when she walked through the door to get into his tiny office.

"I've got a pain in the neck," said Gina with tears in her eyes.

"I'm glad that you came to see me," answered the doctor.

1. How did Gina get into the doctor's office?
2. Why was the doctor glad that Gina came to his office?

Gina sat on a chair and put her purse under the chair. She felt tired and sick. The doctor climbed on top of a stool so that he could examine the tall giraffe.

1. Where did Gina put her purse?
2. Where did the doctor stand?
